Saturday evening at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hyde, their daughter, Miss Gladys Arline Hyde was united in marriage with Harry Keith Wilson, son of Mrs. Ellen E. Wilson of Bloomington, Ill., by Rev. William M. Brown, of Windham. The ceremony was performed under a bower of laurel and autumn foliage in the living room which was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and foliage. The bride wore a gown of ivory broadcloth. Her trousseau was held in place by Misses of the wedding. She carried a shower bouquet of white Killarney roses, lilies-of-the-valley, and pink Mignon roses. The groom wore a tuxedo. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Jay E. Grant of High street as matron of honor. The best man was Joseph Clark, Andrews of New Britain. Jay E. Grant and Marjorie Jewett of East Hartford were ushers. During the lunch following the reception Miss Arline Thompson and Miss Ruth Brumback of Hampton, Miss Mae Congdon and Miss Josephine Congdon, of Willimantic, assisted in serving. The case of Frederick C. Maier, of Boston, a student at the Connecticut Agricultural college, was called on for judgment of costs when the plaintiff pleaded not guilty to the charge of reckless driving. He was represented by Attorney William E. King of Willimantic, October 9 he pleaded not guilty and the case was partly heard October 14 and then continued to Saturday last. Sunday, October 23, Maier, who was driving a Remor owned by Mrs. M. W. Webber, of Eastford, and was accompanied by his son, Robert, collided with a touring car driven by George Basber, of Norwich, in which were several members of the Carbone family, also of Norwich. The Norwich car was badly damaged and several of the occupants were injured. Justice of the Peace M. P. Collins nolle the case on payment of costs of $45.32 after hearing the arguments of Attorney

A shower was given Miss Ruth Taylor Saturday afternoon, in anticipation of her marriage with Louis Hill, of Westbrook, Me., at the home of Mrs. T. R. Parker, of Church street. Mrs. Parker invited twenty-five of Miss Taylor's friends. Mrs. Walter Lathrop of Mystic, Mrs. Warren T. Bartlett, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Burton Bartlett, Miss Gertrude Stocker and Miss Elsie Lincoln of Hartford; Mrs. Fred Tracy of Bridgeport; Mrs. Everett Harrington, Mrs. Roland Jordan, Mrs. Harold Taylor, Mrs. Louis Church, Miss Elizabeth Hartman, Mrs. Fred M. Smith, Mrs. Homer Harrington, Mrs. Curtis H. Reinhardt, Mrs. Donald Crane, Miss Lillian Lincoln, Mrs. George Hickey, Mrs. Frank James, Mrs. Archie Sharp, Mrs. E. K. Nason, Mrs. A. L. Bill, Miss Lou Buck, Mrs. Raymond Parker and Miss Dorothy Brown of Windham. The living rooms were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and autumn foliage. The gifts for the shower were cleverly arranged by Mrs. Parker in the old rose living room on a big, round table. A huge basket of yellow flowers and golden ribbons was used as a centerpiece. Long streamers were suspended from the electric lights to the different gifts. After these had been opened by Miss Taylor, refreshments were served.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane H. Storey was held Saturday afternoon at the parlors of the J. C. Lincoln Co., on Church street. Rev. John Pearce, pastor of the local Methodist church officiated. P. P. Davoli, J. N. Bentley, Charles Bradley and H. E. Simonds were the bearers. Burial was in Willimantic cemetery.

Middleton was from Windham High Friday afternoon to 7 o'clock. Windham suffered a severe strain through the inability of four of its regular players, Dawson, Obermeyer, Rosen and Prag. The local boys were rather fagged after a 30-mile truck ride, yet their first half was decidedly Windham's. With "Shaw" Sullivan back to his post as fullback and the line playing hard they held their heavier opponents and plowed through for several gains. Coach Donahue has accomplished wonderful results with the raw material which was handed him this year, making it a team which by far outplays any that Windham has had in recent years.

The lineup was as follows:

Crowds left Sunday afternoon for Mattine's Hill, about two miles out on the Hartford road to witness the motorcycle contest. Three hundred dollars were offered, the first prize of $100 to be given to the fastest climber of the hill. The feat was a difficult one and was very interesting. There were many narrow escapes and several of the cyclists overturned. One man, the score caller, was run into by one of the climbers and received painful, though not serious, injuries. An Indian motorcycle driven by Joseph Portine and bearing a Massachusetts license crashed into a Reo touring car owned and driven by Mr. Chesbro of Willimantic, while rounding a curve in Windham. Portine received cuts about the head and body and were rushed to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment. His motorcycle was smashed as it ran headon into the Chesbro car damaging the front left mudguard and headlight of the latter. The matter was reported to the police.

STAFFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bennett, with Mrs. William Bennett and her daughter, Harriet Bennett of Hanover, spent Sunday at the Baptist parsonage here with their former pastor's family.

The Baptist church had a day full of inspiration Tuesday last. Dr. Coates and Dr. Sloat, also Mr. Gates from Hartford, gave splendid messages in the afternoon and in the evening. Dr. Sloat gave a stereoscopic lecture, illustrating the text book, "From Survey to Service." During the lecture two illustrated songs were sung, America and O Beautiful For Spacious Skies. After the lecture Rev. Charles Merrill of Noank gave a heart-searching address. He took for his subject, The Second Touch of the Master's Hand. Between the afternoon and evening sessions the church served a splendid supper. Rev. Mr. Allen of the Willimantic church had charge of the singing. Mr. and Mrs. Manderson also sang solos which were thoroughly enjoyed. The sessions were well attended and it is hoped that such a day may become an annual affair.

JEWETT CITY

In Charles Carey's window is to be seen a pair of peanuts as ever grew in Virginia. They were raised by William Christopher, of Pachaug.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carpenter and son Warren, of New York, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carpenter.

G. H. Prior and Louis Gallitelle, the architects of the Jewett City "Gaiety" Horn of Plenty, that proved so attractive in the Shriners' parade in Norwich Saturday, are being complimented for their skill in perfecting the artistic design.

"Johnny" Gorman, sitting at the dispensing end of the great conchocopia, was an added attraction as evidenced by the hearty applause all along the line. Those who marched in rustic regalia beside the float were Lewis Gray, Paul Carpenter of New York, George H. Prior, Walter Benjamin, William T. Crumb, Lewis M. Carpenter, Alfred L. Stebbins, Robert R. Robertson, Raymond P. Chaney, Norman P. Parkhurst, Charles Maynard and Edwin M. Gray. The float was driven by Henry Velgard of Jewett City.

Saturday afternoon the population of Jewett City did one of three things—hunted, hunted or were hunted. There was really necessary business, or went hunting. There have been twenty-five more hunters' licenses issued this fall than ever before. The woods are full of hunters and Saturday came the first report of promiscuous shooting. A Stone Hill man owns a valuable Alredale dog which received a part of a charge of bird shot fired by someone who evidently mistook the dog for a pheasant. The dog's owner, another hunter last week was nearly shot by a man hunting with a rifle contrary to law.

Three cock pheasants have been shot in Lisbon. Other hunters are working hard to get them, as the liberations were all in Griswold. Thirty years ago this fall the late P. B. Drisco, the late W. H. Bennett and F. C. Whiting received two crates of English pheasants from the state game commission. They were liberated in the woods just below Packerville. The season proved favorable and ever since then there have been a few banded each fall. Every time a cock pheasant is secured there is the desire by the fortunate hunter to have the beautiful bird mounted. "Doc" Wallace, a Lisbon woodman of renown, has skinned one in commendable form. This feat was not accomplished, however, until all the family hens had sacrificed a few squares of cuticle for practice purposes.

Halloween dances were furnished to the town by local people and a nomad group by lovers of the dance from New London. Several of the young men enjoyed the novel pleasure of circuit dancing, even being able, by means of waiting automobiles, to enjoy these numbers on different programmes in succession at points a half mile apart.

John C. Hawkins is planning to open up a new highway across his North Main street property to connect on the south boundary with Hill street.
A Jewett City man caused an advertisement for a first class barber to be placed in The Bulletin one morning last week. Either the advertising medium is excellent or spare barbers are plenty, for both. The man had also applications before ten a. m.

BROOKLYN

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Luther M. Keith of Putnam called on Judge and Mrs. T. D. Pond and Mrs. N. A. Witter.

Dr. R. P. Bennett of Providence came in his automobile Wednesday for his wife, who has been visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. T. D. Pond, taking her back to Providence after dinner.

The young people of the Baptist church gave an entertainment in Unitarian hall Wednesday evening, two plays, The Synagogue and That Rascal Pat. Music was by the Brooklyn orchestra of seven pieces. Mr. King was present and sang to his banjo accompaniment. Ice cream and cake were on sale after the entertainment.

Mrs. N. A. Witter returned to her home in Sayville, R. I., Thursday.

The Misses Hall have closed their home here and returned to Providence for the winter.

Mrs. James Lowry has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Blitcher, in West Medway, Mass.

Mrs. George W. Lee has been the guest of relatives in Chaplin.

The news from N. G. Williams, now in the Day Kimball hospital, is encouraging.

MERROW

Thursday forenoon Olin French, who is employed by I. P. Wilcox, was coming down Cassidy Hill, which is very steep, on a load of wood, when a chain holding the neck-yoke broke. The horses ran and Mr. French was thrown to the ground where the loaded wagon ran over him. Frank Clark heard Mr. French and went to his assistance. He was unconscious when Mr. Clark arrived but without help managed to get him into his automobile and took him to his home. Mr. Converse had the injured man taken to Starford hospital where it was found that he had a crushed shoulder and a broken leg. The horses freed themselves from the wagon and were uninjured.

Recent guests at Gula Hill farm were A. Kibbee and daughter, Miss Ellen, from Andover, N. Y.

Miss Mary Warren, who has been visiting in Putnam and Abington for several weeks, has returned to Windham Brook farm.

Miss H. L. Merrow is having good success with a barrel trap, having captured two more skunks the past week.

At Edgewood, Wednesday, October 26, at three o'clock in the living room under a chandelier overgrown and white chrysanthemums, Miss Sarah Phoebe Wilcox became the bride of Rupert Benton West of Tolland (Sulphur district). The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Wilcox and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert West, of Tolland.

As the wedding march, "The Bride

Chorus" from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Edith Guther, a sister of the groom, the bride and groom took their place under the arch erected in one corner of the room. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William C. Darby, pastor of the Federated church of Tolland. The bride was gown in white crepe de chine headed and trimmed with ribbon. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Following a reception cakes, coffee and ice cream were served. Many valuable and beautiful gifts were received including money, cut glass, silver linens, rugs, china, clocks, etc. The ceremony took place on the twenty-third anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox's wedding.

Mr. West and his bride and the bride and groom of twenty-three years ago left for a motor trip through New York state. On their return Mr. and Mrs. West will be at home to friends after December 1 in their newly furnished residence in Tolland.

Mrs. Howard of Stafford is spending a few days with Mrs. Ellen Dimock.

MONTVILLE

The Social Union of the Montville Centre Congregational church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Edwin Comstock.

Guy Loomis returned Sunday to Hartford after visiting relatives in Palmerston.

Harry Erjosen and family have moved to the Litsky tenement in Pequot.

Samuel Sleeper visited in New Haven over Sunday.

Many children from the village attended the field of exercises held at Jordan school Saturday, the 22.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Finn of Noank spent Sunday, the 23rd with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Freeman, Frank Freeman and Earl Carlton of Hartford visited here Sunday, the 23rd.

The houses of Frank Bergman and Edwin P. Smith are being relinquished.

BALITIC

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Charron have returned from Concord, N. H.

John Pirih, who was injured Wednesday night in the Army and Navy Wanderer basketball game is doing well, but will be out of the game for some weeks and will be a loss to the Wanderers as he was playing a great game at center. Another player on the injured list is Fred Brickman who strained his back in the last part of the game.

The moving picture, The County Fair, is coming to Balitic soon.

It took three days at 1 o'clock to carry the crowd to Norwich to the Shriners' big parade Saturday. More went down later.

day and had a pretty fair crowd considering other attractions going on. Humphrey's orchestra furnished the music.

Albert Taylor and Phil Almqvist are making quite a name refereeing basketball games.

EAGLEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Adams have been entertaining Mrs. William Loefer and daughter of Woonsocket, R. I., and Charles Adams of Easthampton, Mass.

Ralph, Florence and Beatrice Marsh of Stafford Springs are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marsh. Their mother is a patient at the Stafford hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Warren entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lelli-bridge of East Hartford and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goodman and son of South Willington.
